GLORIA

LAUDA ANIMA

Glory be to God in heaven,
Songs of joy and peace we bring;
Thankful hearts and voices raising,
To creation's Lord we sing:
Lord, we thank you, Lord, we bless you,
Glory be to God our king.

Lamb of God who on your shoulders
Bore the load of this world's sin;
Only Son of God the Father,
You have brought us peace within:
Lord, have mercy, Christ, have mercy,
Now your glorious reign begin.

You, O Son of God, are holy,
You we praise with one accord;
None in heav'n or earth is like you,
Only you are Christ the Lord,
With the Father, and the Spirit,
Ever worshiped and adored.

ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL

June 29, 2008

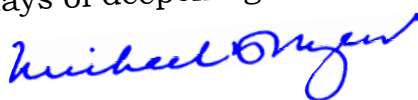

Dear Friends,

It's a nice coincidence that the feast of Saints Peter and Paul falls on a Sunday this year. I say that because the Church begins today a special year dedicated to St. Paul. Why this year? Well, 2008 marks the two-thousandth anniversary (give or take – we don't have actual dates to go by) of his birth. Why a year dedicated to St. Paul? Because a case can be made for calling him the second most influential figure in the entire history of Christianity. Second only to Jesus. During the coming year, our parish will continue to offer educational opportunities to learn more about St. Paul and his writings. You can read more on a special page in today's bulletin, or the more technologically savvy among you can check the special feature on the Cathedral's website (www.stjames-cathedral.org).

Last Sunday night we were privileged to host Jean Vanier, the founder of the L'Arche movement and, without doubt, one of the living saints of our time. His profound yet simple message awakened all of us to the mysterious way God is present in the little people of our world --- the poor, the vulnerable, the ones we call disabled – and of how they nourish us spiritually and call us to what is truly important in life. The joy and peace and love that are so visible in Vanier's face – even before he ever speaks a word – must be something like the joy and peace and love that people once saw in the face of Jesus. People often remark to me that they feel a Presence – hard to define but hard to miss—whenever they come into St. James Cathedral. If you feel that Presence today, perhaps it's because of the quiet grace Jean Vanier and the wonderful family of L'Arche brought to us last Sunday evening. How blessed we were!

You will be happy to know that we will be hosting the SHARE Safe Haven overnight shelter for the months of July and August. Until recently this shelter has been housed in the former INS building. When the GSA terminated their arrangement SHARE asked if we would be willing to give them the use of the Cathedral Hall for the remainder of the summer. I'm sure you will agree that it's a privilege to be able to share our facilities with 30 homeless people.

Summer seemed slow to arrive this year but better late than never. I hope these days are good for you and that they bring some opportunities for relaxation and leisure. May they also be days of deepening our relationship with God. Have a blessed summer!

Father Michael G. Ryan

THE YEAR OF ST. PAUL

Beginning on June 29, 2008—the Solemnity of Saints Peter and Paul—the Church throughout the world will observe a year dedicated to the Apostle Paul. Catholics and Orthodox, and Christians of many other denominations as well, will mark this special year—the second millennium of the apostle’s birth—by reflecting on his words, seeking his intercession, and following the ancient pilgrim way that leads to the great Basilica which rises above the tomb of the apostle, just outside the ancient walls of Rome.

WHO WAS PAUL?

The Acts of the Apostles and Paul’s own letters provide us with a wealth of detail about the life of St. Paul—more than we have about any other apostle, with the possible exception of Peter. We know that Paul (his Jewish name was ‘Saul’) was from Tarsus, a large, multicultural city in what is now Turkey. Raised in the strict observance of the Jewish faith, he was in fact a Pharisee, one of those rigid and correct observers of the Law with whom Jesus so often found himself in conflict. Paul persecuted the followers of “the Way” until his encounter with the risen Christ on the road to Damascus. A well-educated man, Paul spoke several languages, knew the Hebrew scriptures intimately, and was familiar with Greek rhetorical devices as well. We know that Paul was a working man, a tentmaker (Acts 18: 3). Even when he was traveling and preaching he continued to support himself by the work of his hands (1 Thessalonians 2: 9). In describing his own background, Paul showed his pride in his Jewish roots: “Circumcised on the eighth day, of the race of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrew parentage, in observance of the law a Pharisee, in zeal I persecuted the church, in righteousness based on the law I was blameless” (Philippians 3: 5).

The Acts of the Apostles and Paul’s letters also tell us much about Paul’s life after his conversion to Jesus Christ. Though some were at first suspicious of this persecutor-turned-apostle, Peter and the others soon came to acknowledge the genuineness of Paul’s call, especially his call to preach the Gospel to the Gentiles. Paul, in turn, acknowledged the special role of Peter, and visited Jerusalem to consult with him several times.

Paul was constantly on the move, and both Acts and the letters provide detailed evidence of his missionary journeys, which took him from end to end of the ancient world, from Athens to Rome. Sometimes with other disciples, and sometimes alone, Paul preached the good news in small towns and large cities. In some places the message flourished; in others Paul endured sharp persecution for the faith. (For Paul’s own account of all he went through for the faith, see 2 Corinthians 11: 24-27.)

This image of St. Paul from a 9th century manuscript from the Monastery of St Gallen is believed to be one of the earliest European depictions of St Paul.

Acts concludes with Paul awaiting sentence in Rome. Tradition tells us that he met his death there by beheading around the year 62, during the reign of Nero. Over his remains rose one of the oldest Christian basilicas, that of Saint Paul outside the Walls. Recent archeological excavations beneath the Basilica, which has been rebuilt a number of times over the centuries, have confirmed the presence of the apostle’s tomb below the papal altar.

FOR REFLECTION

Today’s reading is from the second letter of Saint Paul to Timothy (2 Timothy 4: 6-8, 17-18). The passage we hear on this feast has sometimes been referred to as Paul’s ‘last will and testament.’ “I, Paul, am already being poured out like a libation, and the time of my departure is at hand,” Paul writes to a young bishop, Timothy. “I have competed well; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. From now on the crown of righteousness awaits me, which the Lord, the just judge, will award to me on that day, and not only to me, but to all who have longed for his appearance.” In this reading, we hear the voice of an old man, who is about to give his life for what he believes in, as he tells a young friend what is most important to him. How would you describe Paul’s attitude as his life draws to a close? What is the source of his courage? If you were to write a similar farewell in a letter to a friend, what might it say?

PRAYER FOR THE YEAR OF ST. PAUL

Glorious Saint Paul,
Apostle to the Gentiles,
when the Lord called, you answered,
and you spread the good news of the Gospel
to the very ends of the earth.

PRAY FOR US,
that we may serve Christ as you did:
proclaiming the name of Jesus
in good times and bad,
when convenient and when inconvenient.

PRAY FOR US,
that we may welcome all the people we meet with compassionate hearts and open minds.

PRAY FOR US,
that Christ may live in us as he lived in you.
We pray in the name of the One who is your Lord and ours,
Christ Jesus the Lord. Amen.
