CELEBRATING 50 YEARS SINCE THE OPENING OF THE SECOND VATICAN COUNCIL

The Second Vatican Council opened on October 11, 1962. Throughout this anniversary year, special events and educational opportunities will help us mark the 50th anniversary of a watershed moment in our Church and our world. This is a time to give thanks for the gifts of the Spirit in our Church, to be renewed in our understanding of the Council, and to look to the future. "Illuminated by the light of this Council, we confidently trust the Church will become greater in riches. Gaining strength and new energies from the Council, she will look to the future without fear" (Blessed John XXIII).

Lent, 2012 | Keys to the Council: Living Church

This Lent, on Tuesday evenings at 7:00pm and Saturday mornings at 9:00am, you're invited to an in-depth study of the great teachings of the Council. This series will combine large group learning and small group reflection. What better way to observe Lent of 2012 than by rediscovering what it means to be the Church and to live out its mission? More information, including registration forms and reading materials, will appear in the bulletin in the coming weeks. Information, Corinna Laughlin, claughlin@stjames-cathedral.org.

Save the Date! 2012 Vatican II Lecture Series

A series of lectures by noted local and national speakers will explore different aspects of the Second Vatican Council and what it means to us today. All lectures will begin at 7:00pm; location TBA. Please note that more events are still being planned, including the dedication of a new shrine honoring Blessed John XXIII. Keep an eye on the bulletin for details!

We are also able to offer a wide range of services to needy people living in the central district of our city.*

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR ADULTS AND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS 16 years and older begin Thursday, February 16, 6:30-8:30 pm in Cathedral Place, Room 411. CELEBRATING CATHOLIC SCHOOLS – RAINBOW SCHOOLS COALITION This weekend, we celebrate Catholic Schools, and in particular the Cathedral children who attend one of the five Rainbow Schools. Our parish is a contributing member of the Rainbow Schools Program whereby children from our parish can attend at "parishioner" tuition rates. Approximately 60 cathedral children are enrolled in one of these terrific schools. Today representatives of St. Edward, St. George, St. Paul, St. Joseph and St. Therese Catholics Schools will be available following the 10:00am and Noon Masses during hospitality. In addition, our parish has established the Cathedral Scholarship Fund to assist families in meeting the financial obligation involved in sending their elementary school aged children to any one of the Rainbow Schools. Information, TerryAnn Bowen, 206-382-2018, tbowen@stjames-cathedral.org

Getting to know Good Pope John

Later this year, thanks to some generous parishioners, a permanent shrine to Blessed John XXIII, the Pope who called the Second Vatican Council, will be established in the north aisle of the Cathedral. Throughout the year, keep an eye on this box in the bulletin to learn more about this great saint of modern times.

"The sense of my smallness and of my nothingness has always been my good companion, keeping me humble and content and granting me the joy of consecrating myself as best I can to the uninterrupted exercise of obedience and charity. I come from humble beginnings, and I was raised in a restraining, blessed poverty whose needs are few and which assures the growth of the highest and noblest virtues, and prepares one for the great ascents of life."

Meeting Christ, Knowing Christ, Serving Christ

A new Vision Statement for St. James Cathedral

Who we are

We are the Cathedral for the Catholic Archdiocese of Seattle and its Archbishop, the Most Reverend J. Peter Sartain.
We are also a parish church for a vibrant faith community with a long history that reaches back to Seattle's early days.

We are an inner-city parish with an outreach to many who live on the edge of poverty and loneliness.
We are a diverse community that welcomes, accepts, and celebrates the differences we all bring.
We exist in the heart of the city, yet sometimes our parishioners come from considerable distances to worship here.

St. James Cathedral is a crossroads where ideas and challenges both old and new are explored in the light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
Our Cathedral is also the center for many cultural and ecumenical events which both reflect and help to shape a vital metropolitan community.

Above all,
St. James Cathedral is a community of prayer.

Prayer: Meeting Christ

Prayer in community is at the heart of our Christian identity.
Our celebration of the Eucharist,
Sunday after Sunday, informs everything we do.
It offers consolation and meaning,
but also challenges us and sends us forth.

Prayer transcends the individual.
It breaks down our isolation and carries us from I to we.

When we gather for prayer,
we let down our defenses and encounter God's grace.
In prayer we find Christ,
dwelling in our hearts,
and act on that discovery.

Questions for reflection

- How important is the Sunday Eucharist to me? Does it truly inform my life outside of the Cathedral? In what specific ways does the Sunday Eucharist shape my life and ministry?
- How does the Sunday Eucharist console and challenge me?
- What are the gifts I experience from being part of a worshiping community? What are the challenges?

Faith: Knowing Christ

Faith is a gift from God:
a grace, freely given, that brings us into communion with Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
We come to know Christ not only with our hearts,
but with our minds.

As we learn the rich heritage of our Catholic faith,
we become more deeply rooted in Christ's love.
Teaching the faith is the responsibility of the entire community;
everything we do as a parish is an opportunity to grow in faith.

As members of the body of Christ, we form the faith of those whose lives intersect with ours, whether we realize it or not,
and we are also formed by our encounters with others.
We are called to a lifetime of learning and conversion.

Questions for reflection

- What is an example from my life when I realized my own words and actions could have an impact on the faith of others?
- Can I think of an unexpected encounter or experience that has increased my faith? One that has tested it?

- Do I see myself as a teacher, a witness to our Catholic faith? How in the past year have I enriched my faith and understanding of our tradition? How might I do so in the coming year?

Compassion: Serving Christ

Our compassion flows from the Eucharist.
We do not choose between prayer and action:
we are called to both.
In the spirit of the Beatitudes,
we reach out to the poor,
as well as to the poor in spirit.
We offer not only food and shelter,
but the gift of being present to one another.
We inform ourselves about pressing moral and social issues so we can stand with those in need and help them find their voice.
Through our service we bear witness to Christ,
and we encounter him in new ways.
Both those who minister,
and those who are ministered to, receive a gift.

We recognize the immensity of the need but we are not discouraged by it, knowing that God is able to accomplish far more than all we ask or imagine.

Questions for reflection

- Is service of others part of the rhythm of my faith? How do contemplation and action intersect in my own life/ministry?
- Is my service of others influenced by my life of prayer? In what way?
- How do I use my voice and presence on behalf of the poor?

Cathedral: Beacon of Christ

We are aware that as the Cathedral church, we are a model for the diocese,
in prayer and worship, and in all our ministries.
We are also a beacon of hope within the city.
We treasure our art and history,
but we are not a museum:
we are an organic, living community which responds to the needs of the times.

Like cathedrals throughout the world and throughout history,

we embrace our unique opportunity to evangelize the culture, and to be a crossroads for the exchange of ideas.

Questions for reflection

- Where do I experience the tension between the Church and the culture in which we live?
- What does the Cathedral have to contribute to our culture? To our city? In what ways am I a part of that?

Why a new Vision Statement?

The Pastoral Vision Council offers this Vision Statement in the hopes that it will be a useful instrument in living out our vocation as a Cathedral and as a parish. We invite you not just to read it, but to use it!

To each member of the parish community, the Spirit has been given for a unique purpose. This Vision will come to life in our parish to the extent that each one of us finds ways to put the gifts God has given us at the service of the parish.

Parishioners are invited to use it to reflect on how their own service enriches and strengthens the community as a whole, or as a tool to discern how God might be calling them to use their gifts in service.

Visitors and seekers of all kinds are invited to use it to meditate on how God might be calling them, and how this parish community might be a companion on their journey.

Cathedral staff and leadership groups will use this Vision in their program planning in the coming years.

We pray that the Spirit, who is able to accomplish infinitely more than we ask or imagine, will guide our parish community in the coming years. May we continue to seek ever new ways to know, love, and serve Christ, who is in our midst.

Joy and Hope in Christ: Vatican II

Part 3 in a series

February 5, 2012

This year, 2012, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Second Vatican Council, which began on October 11, 1962, and closed on December 8, 1965. Throughout the year, we'll mark this milestone anniversary by celebrating the Council, and exploring its teachings through bulletin inserts, lectures, and a variety of special events.

Where did the Council come from?

The Second Vatican Council took the world by surprise, but in hindsight, we can see that the Church had, in a sense, been preparing for it for decades. There had been discussion—and debate—about many of the Council's primary themes for years leading up to the bishops' arrival in Rome in October, 1962.

The Liturgical Movement

Following the reforms of the Council of Trent, the liturgy remained essentially unchanged for several centuries. But from the middle of the 19th century, there was a growing sense that renewal was needed. A Benedictine, Dom Prosper Guéranger, worked to revive and restore the tradition of Gregorian chant, and established a monastery at Solesmes, France, which became a center for liturgical music and practice. In the early 20th century, what came to be called "the liturgical movement" gathered momentum. There was a surge in liturgical research and experimentation. Scholars like Joseph Jungmann, SJ explored the history of the Roman Rite, showing how the Mass had grown and developed through the centuries. Many advocated ressourcement – a "return to the sources," to the roots of Catholic worship and practice. The participation of the people and the use of the vernacular became the keynotes of the liturgical movement.

A watershed moment came in 1947 with Pope Pius XII's encyclical Mediator Dei, which has been called "the Magna Carta of the liturgical movement." The document touched on many of the major themes which would emerge in the Council's reflections on liturgy, including the presence of Christ in the liturgy, the need for liturgical catechesis, and the active participation of the assembly.

Ecumenism

Ecumenism—dialogue with Christians of other denominations--was not the invention of the Second Vatican Council. The week of prayer for Christian unity had been observed annually since 1908, and beginning in the 1950s, there was what might be called a "thaw," as Christians of many denominations began to come together in dialogue. In 1952, Bishop Charrière of Switzerland gathered 24 European theologians for an unprecedented meeting, from which came the "Catholic Conference for Ecumenical Questions." Several prominent Catholic theologians, including Yves Congar and Karl Rahner, were involved in these annual gatherings, which helped to develop a language and a framework for ecumenical dialogue which in many ways made possible the Second Vatican Council's breakthroughs in this area.

The Church and the World

The attitude within the Church from the Council of Trent into the 19th century has been described as a "siege mentality." That mentality was understandable: the church seemed to be besieged by change, as the Protestant Reformation was followed by the Enlightenment, the French Revolution, and the Industrial Revolution.

While the Church never stopped ministering to the needs of the poor, it was not as comfortable questioning the root causes of the world's problems. That began to change in 1891, with Pope Leo XIII's encyclical Rerum Novarum. It was "the Magna Carta of social Catholicism, the movement that more than any other within the Church gradually forced Catholics out of their medievalism... and inspired them to grapple realistically with the problems of the twentieth century" (Bokenkotter, 331). The Church began to distinguish between the givens of modern life—freedom of the press, freedom of religion, the separation of Church and state—and "Modernism," with its philosophies that were at odds with the Church's teaching. With Rerum Novarum, the Church began to look to the root causes of poverty and to advocate for justice and for social reform. The Church began to see itself not as apart from the world, but as a part of it.

Wills & Estate Planning Seminar

St. James Cathedral, Pastoral Outreach Center

Wednesday, March 21, 2012 at 2:30pm & 7:00pm

Did you know that an estimated 65% of Americans do not have a will? Many think that only wealthy people need an estate plan. But this simply isn't true! Even those with no dependents need an estate plan if they have any property and want to decide who receives it. A will can cut delays and probate costs, waive expenses, and help reduce taxes.

The Cathedral parish will provide a free seminar on Wills and Estate Planning on Wednesday, March 21 from 2:30pm until 4:00pm, and again from 7:00pm until 8:30pm. JoAnne Strom, Archdiocesan Director of Planned Giving, and Celeste McDonell, Cathedral parishioner and estate planning attorney, will offer their broad knowledge and expertise. You'll have a chance to ask questions and get good advice on what to do next. The whole session is short, simple, and to the point! You'll also receive useful materials to take home and study.

All are welcome. This session will benefit people of all ages and is offered with no strings attached. Please sign up by detaching the form below and dropping it in the offering basket or returning it to the parish office. For more information, contact Maria Laughlin, Director of Stewardship and Development, 206-382-4284.

This is a FREE, no-strings-attached presentation which includes

- Assurance that "putting your affairs in order" is easier than you may think
- Information on how to prepare your will
- Information on distributing your estate
- Information on guardianship issues
- Estate gifting techniques and more information on tax advantages
