WELCOME! If you are a visitor to the Cathedral, we want you to know how welcome you are – whether you have come from another part of the country, from across the world, or simply from another parish here in the Archdiocese. Thanks, in part, to the generosity of visitors like you, we are able to celebrate the Church's liturgy here in a fitting and beautiful way. We are also able to offer a wide range of services to needy people living in the central district of our city.

FLORAL ARRANGEMENTS AT THE ALTAR Floral offerings are a venerable custom in the Church, and a wonderful way to remember a deceased loved one, celebrate an anniversary, or give thanks for an answered prayer. Information Peggy Behnken, 206-654-4650, pbehnken@stjames-cathedral.org.

CATHEDRAL ESPRESSO All proceeds, through the end of October will support scholarships for our Children's Faith Formation program. We are also looking for a few more volunteers. If you are interested, please contact Katherine Berry at 425-772-0897. No experience is necessary, training will be provided.

NONVIOLENCE AND THE INTEGRITY OF CREATION As part of the Cathedral's Respect Life educational series, Alexandra Kovats, CSJP, PhD, will explore our call to nonviolence. Using insights from biblical and mystical perspectives, as well as from recent church documents, she will focus especially on how our call to nonviolence relates to the natural world. Sr. Alexandra has been a spiritual director and retreat facilitator for over 30 years and is Adjunct Professor at the School of Theology and Ministry at Seattle University. She is the author of Prayer, a Discovery of Life. TODAY, Sunday, October 23, immediately following the 10:00am Mass in the Pastoral Outreach Center across the street from the cathedral at 907 Columbia. Information, Suzanne Lee, slee@stjames-cathedral.org or 206-654-4640.

CATHEDRAL KITCHEN DONATIONS The Cathedral Kitchen needs clean 16-ounce containers (cottage cheese, yogurt, sour cream, etc.). There are often leftovers after we serve our evening meal. These containers enable us to give our guests takeout fruits and/or salads. You may drop clean containers off at the Cathedral Kitchen Monday to Friday, 10am–6pm.

Playing soccer can break the cycle that often isolates the economically disadvantaged, and can help build the skills and determination needed for continuing education and for finding a job and permanent housing. Join members of the St. James Housing Advocacy Committee and David Nibley, president of Street Soccer Seattle for a conversation about how we can support this innovative organization. Thursday, November 3, 6:30-7:30pm, Mother Mary Rose Room, Pastoral Outreach Center, 907 Columbia. Information, Raymond Wlodkowski, rwlodkow@regis.edu.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN LEARNING MORE ABOUT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND/OR BECOMING CATHOLIC? You are invited to participate in the RCIA, a process of initiation into the Catholic community of faith. It is a process which encompasses the study of Scripture, Catholic teaching, and Christian values – the development and deepening of a life of prayer and action – all with the support and involvement of the parish community. You can learn more by going to www.stjames-cathedral.org/RCIA. A new inquiry session will begin Wednesday, November 9 at 7:00pm in Cathedral Place, second floor. Information, TerryAnn Bowen, 206-382-2018 or tbowen@stjames-cathedral.org.

THE DREAM ACT Thousands of hard working young people who were brought to the United States as infants or children can be deported to a country they have never known. The DREAM Act would stop this injustice to those who have grown up and graduated high school in the United States, and would give them the opportunity to serve our country and earn legal status through higher education or military service. Learn more about why the USCCB supports the Dream Act by visiting the ESL Program's website at www.stjames-cathedral.org/esl, or stopping by our table at coffee hour today.

TOURS OF THE CATHEDRAL are offered each Wednesday at 1:00pm throughout the year. This is a great way to share the Cathedral with family and guests. No reservations required!

Transitioning to the new Roman Missal

Part 7 in a series (Prepared by Corinna Laughlin)

October 23, 2011

PREFACE DIALOGUE

The Lord be with you.

And with your spirit.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

It is right and just.

Texts of the Roman Missal, Third Edition, are copyright © 2010 by International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation (ICEL).

The Preface Dialogue is one of the most ancient parts of the Mass. In the Apostolic Tradition of Saint Hippolytus of Rome, dating from around 215, much of the liturgy of ordination of a bishop is quoted, including these familiar words: "The Lord be with you. All respond, And with your spirit! Let us lift up our hearts. They are turned to the Lord. Let us give thanks to the Lord! It is right and just!" (Quoted in Lucien Deiss, The Springtime of the Liturgy, p. 129-30).

The first part of the dialogue, as we have already seen (see Part 2 of this series on the Cathedral website), is rooted in Scripture, and appears four times in the liturgy today. The words "Lift up your hearts" have their roots in Scripture—Lawrence Johnson points out their similarity to Lamentations 3:41, "Let us reach out our hearts toward God in heaven." The last part of the dialogue, "It is right and just," a more literal translation of the Latin "Dignum et iustum est," is thought to be a response deriving from the Greek tradition, when it was "an acclamation of agreement." (Johnson, 79) The people's response is echoed at the beginning of the preface, which amplifies the theme: "It is truly right and just, our duty and our salvation, always and everywhere to give you thanks."

In the 1974 Sacramentary, the people's response was translated "It is right to give him thanks and praise" in order to express more clearly the meaning of "just," which has different connotations in English than in the Latin. In this case, "iustum" means "proper" rather than "fair," the meaning we most often assign to "just."

The Preface itself is a prayer of praise and thanksgiving to God for what he has done for us in Jesus. Each preface begins and ends in the same way. It is indeed "right and just" to give God thanks through Christ. And in giving thanks and praise to God, we do so in company with all the saints and angels. The central portion of each preface is richly varied (there are nearly 100 prefaces in the Roman Missal, to be used at different times, in celebrations of the seasons, saints, and sacraments). All of these prefaces say something about what God has done for us in Jesus Christ. The Prefaces of Ordinary Time are especially direct in their presentation of the heart of the Paschal Mystery, the saving life, death, and resurrection of Christ.

FROM AGE TO AGE: EXPLORING THE HISTORY OF CATHOLIC WORSHIP This week, you're invited to participate in the last session of our popular series on the history of Catholic worship, as we trace the reform and renewal of the liturgy of the Church from the Council of Trent, to the Second Vatican Council, and the present day. Why do we pray the way we do? How has the participation of the laity grown and changed? The session will include a brief overview of the new translation of the Roman Missal which we will begin to use on November 27. Corinna Laughlin, Director of Liturgy, presenter. The session is offered TWICE: Tuesday, October 25 at 6:30pm, OR Saturday, October 29 at 9:30am. Both sessions will take place in Cathedral Place, Second Floor.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE MASS IS CHANGING The texts of the Mass, including the parts prayed by the priest and the people's responses, are changing. In just a few weeks, on November 27, we will begin using the new translation of the Roman Missal. This page is part of an ongoing series in the bulletin to help us understand the new texts and prepare to use them on the First Sunday of Advent. Explore the whole series at www.stjames-cathedral.org. On the weekends of November 13 and 20, after all the Masses, there will be short, intensive sessions focused on learning the new responses. Please participate! Visit the Cathedral's website for more details on these programs.

The Challenge of Peace & Non-Violence

OCTOBER IS RESPECT LIFE MONTH | No. 4 of 5

October 23, 2011

October is Respect Life Month! Each week we have been exploring Church teaching on major life issues. This week, we look at the Church's teaching on peace and nonviolence.

In keeping with our consistent ethic of life, the Church sees war as a grave violation of the dignity of the human person. Peace, wrote Blessed John XXIII, is a gift from God, to be sought, treasured, and safeguarded. While the Church does acknowledge that there are times when a use of force may be justified to correct a manifest injustice, these "just-war conditions" are quite limited (see the Catechism, 2309). "The best way to avoid war is to safeguard peace by letting go of the anger and hatred that breed war and by eliminating the poverty, injustice, and deprivation of human rights that lead to war."

The US Catholic Catechism for Adults, p. 395

What does the Church say about peace?

Peace is not just the absence of war. It involves mutual respect and confidence between peoples and nations. It involves collaboration and binding agreements. Like a cathedral, peace has to be constructed, patiently and with unshakeable faith.

Wherever the strong exploit the weak; wherever the rich take advantage of the poor; wherever great powers seek to dominate and to impose ideologies, there the work of making peace is undone; there the cathedral of peace is again destroyed. Today, the scale and the horror of modern warfare—whether nuclear or not—makes it totally unacceptable as a means of settling differences between nations. War should belong to the tragic past, to history; it should find no place on humanity's agenda for the future.

Pope John Paul II at Coventry, England, May 30, 1982

No society can live in peace with itself, or with the world, without a full awareness of the worth and dignity of every human person, and of the sacredness of all human life (Jas. 4:1-2). When we accept

Our Lady, Queen of Peace, pray for us!
Hans Gottfried von Stockhausen, 1994

violence in any form as commonplace, our sensitivities become dulled. When we accept violence, war itself can be taken for granted. Violence has many faces: oppression of the poor, deprivation of basic human rights, economic exploitation, sexual exploitation and pornography, neglect or abuse of the aged and the helpless, and innumerable other acts of inhumanity.

The United States Bishops, The Challenge of Peace, 1982

Given the new weapons that make possible destructions that go beyond the combatant groups, today we should be asking ourselves if it is still licit to admit the very existence of a 'just war.'

Joseph Cardinal Ratzinger, now Pope Benedict XVI
May 2, 2003

Nonviolence requires at least as much of our lives as war does. The truth is found in Jesus' nonviolent teaching of the cross: to lay down our lives out of love, not while taking the lives of others but by revering them more deeply... I am challenged increasingly by the nonviolent truth of the cross, by the calling of the God of Love to lose our lives for peace.

Archbishop Raymond G. Hunthausen, October 24, 1981

The United States has now achieved the capacity to wage major warfare over many years without greatly burdening its economy or its general citizenry... We have managed to create and field an armed force that is very lethal without the society in whose name it fights breaking a sweat.

Most Rev. Robert W. McElroy, Auxiliary Bishop of San Francisco

Suggested Actions

- Attend Alexandra Kovats, CSJP's presentation, Nonviolence and the Integrity of Creation following the 10 am Mass, this Sunday, October 23 in the Pastoral Outreach Center across the street from the cathedral at 907 Columbia.

Ministries Fair

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 2011 after the morning masses in Cathedral Hall

God has created me
to do Him some definite service.
He has committed some work to me
which He has not committed to another.
I have my mission.
I am a link in a chain,
a bond of connection between persons.
He has not created me for naught.
I shall do good; I shall do His work.
—Blessed John Henry Newman

On Sunday, November 6, we have our annual MINISTRIES FAIR after each of our morning Masses. This is our chance to explore the many different opportunities for service at St. James Cathedral. It's also a time to celebrate the rich and varied ministries of our Cathedral parish. More than 1,100 people volunteer in 40+ different ministries at St. James each year. Come celebrate what your generous support of the Cathedral parish makes possible and find out how you can become a part of it!
