THE WAY OF COMPANIONSHIP How can we reach out with love to those who are hurting? How can I see the face of Christ in the face of a homeless person? There are many times when we are called up to listen to another person, to hear their story and to offer some kind of help or support. Craig Rennebohm from the Mental Health Chaplaincy will present a training in the practice of companionship, a way of being gently present to another and sharing a little of the journey together. ### VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

SPECIAL VOLUNTEER ORIENTATION FOR PEOPLE INTERESTED IN WORKING WITH REFUGEES! In a partnership with International Rescue Committee, St. James ESL Program offers one-to-one and small group tutoring to newly arrived refugees from East Africa and South Central Asia. SUMMER COFFEE HOUR Summer is coming, and we'll soon be sipping coffee in the sunshine. Weather permitting, the Sunday morning coffee hours will take place in the Archbishop Murphy courtyard starting on June 1 and continuing through Labor Day weekend. But this can only happen with your help. Hosting coffee hour outdoors requires extra hands, and our regular coffee hour crew is already stretched. If you have enjoyed the summer coffee hour in the past, would you please consider helping us bring it back? We are looking for several outgoing people to help with set-up, serving and clean-up for this very important ministry of hospitality. It's fun, it's easy, and you might even get a suntan! Information, Patty Bowman, 206-382-4515 or pbowman@stjames-cathedral.org.

Corpus Christi Procession

with the Blessed Sacrament on the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Sunday, May 25, 2008
10:00am

As Catholics have done on this day for nearly a millennium, we take to the streets with procession, prayer, bagpipes, and song to celebrate and show forth to our entire First Hill community our faith in Christ's abiding presence in our midst in the holy Eucharist.

"We bring Christ, present under the sign of bread, onto the streets of our city. We entrust these streets, these homes, our daily life, to his goodness. May our streets be streets of Jesus! May our houses be homes for him and with him! May our life of every day be penetrated by his presence!

"With this gesture, let us place under his eyes the sufferings of the sick, the solitude of young people and the elderly, temptations, fears - our entire life. The procession represents an immense and public blessing for our city: Christ is, in person, the divine Blessing for the world. May the ray of his blessing extend to us all!

"In the Corpus Domini procession, we walk with the Risen One on his journey to meet the entire world."

THE NEW SOLEMNITY

A Short History of the Corpus Christi Procession

As far as feasts go, Corpus Christi is a relatively new one, dating from the middle of the 13th-century. (In fact, for several hundred years it was commonly referred to as nova sollemnitatis, “the new solemnity”!) Corpus Christi has been given many names over the centuries — Feast of the Eucharist, Feast of the Most Precious Sacrament, even Feast of God. (In fact, in France it is still commonly known as the Fête-Dieu.) Whatever its name, this feast celebrates our Catholic faith in the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist.

The principal celebration of the Blessed Sacrament is of course the Evening Mass of the Lord’s Supper on Holy Thursday. But, as Adolf Adam has pointed out, on Holy Thursday “there is little room for the unfettered expression of festal joy.” At this feast of Corpus Christi, “faith can express its joyous thanksgiving for the Eucharist as the precious fruit and operative presence of the paschal mystery.”

The outdoor procession with the Blessed Sacrament actually came later than the feast itself, and it developed out of the fervent desire of the faithful to gaze upon the consecrated host (the same desire which led, in the 13th-century, to the elevation of the host and the chalice at Mass). Throughout the later Middle Ages and into the Baroque period, Corpus Christi processions became an enthusiastic expression of faith, and a dazzling civic display as well. In some places in Germany, the procession stopped “at four outdoor altars; at which the beginnings of the four Gospels were sung toward the four quarters of the heavens.” In other places elaborate floats representing the Lord’s Passion and various Old Testament scenes accompanied the procession. In York, England, the feast of Corpus Christi was the occasion for the performance of a great cycle of 47 mystery plays, which took over most of the town, and in the course of a single day — beginning at dawn and ending late at night — presented the whole history of salvation, from the Creation to the Last Judgment.

In our own time, the Corpus Christi procession allows us — in a very tangible way — to take our faith to the streets, and to demonstrate to our First Hill community our belief that Jesus is truly with us in the Eucharist. And, processing as a family of faith, we realize as never before that we are the body of Christ.

Pope Benedict XVI beautifully captured the purpose of this procession in his homily for Corpus Christi last year: “We bring Christ, present under the sign of bread, onto the streets of our city. We entrust these streets, these homes, our daily life, to his goodness. May our streets be streets of Jesus! May our houses be homes for him and with him! May our life of every day be penetrated by his presence. .. In the Corpus Domini procession, we walk with the Risen One on his journey to meet the entire world.”
