Let this mind be in you

Beach

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. But made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled Himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross.

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

News from the Cathedral Kitchen

St. James Cathedral, Seattle

June 2010

THANK YOU, SEATTLE UNIVERSITY!

As we conclude another academic year, we would like to thank the Seattle University students who have participated in the Cathedral Kitchen. Throughout the year the Seattle U students have been responsible for preparing, serving, and cleaning up for the Friday meal. In addition to a small crew of regular volunteers, ten to twelve students have participated with a great deal of energy and enthusiasm.

A spin-off activity of several of the participants has resulted in an English class on Wednesdays for several of our Latin-American guests. Each week these students help our guests to fill out various documents for a variety of social needs as well as developing their language skills.

Also from SU, on a weekly basis, a selected number of nursing students arrive every Thursday to provide blood pressure checks. Under the supervision of a Seattle U instructor/RN, these students have gotten acquainted with the variety of different people who come to the Cathedral Kitchen.

We are thankful for all of the time and effort these representatives of Seattle University have offered the Cathedral Kitchen program.

What a broadening experience this has been for one of our SU students, who wrote the following poem:

The Soul of a Stranger

*I search and I ponder
But no one will listen
They give me a look
That says "what are you missing?"*

*They stare at my sign
My backpack, then shoes
As I think to myself
"What if it was you?"*

*Do they think I enjoy
Sleeping out in the rain
Looking for food
While others call me insane?*

*I know how I smell
And I know how I look
But I swear on my life
That I am not a crook*

*I wanted to fulfill
An everlasting goal
But instead I have succeeded
At discovering my soul*

*I now understand
What it's like to be shunned
To be ignored by the world
As if you're some type of scum*

*I will never again
Be the one to decide
Who has too little
And who carries too much pride*

*For each day that I struggle
From living with strife
I smile from uncovering
The meaning of life*

In your midst,
Jill & Jim McAuliffe
Co-Directors of the Cathedral Kitchen
