

Annual CATHOLIC Appeal

Once again, it's time for the Annual Catholic Appeal. This important Appeal gives us the opportunity to support the work of the wider church in Western Washington—the work of Catholic Community Services, the education of seminarians, support of retired priests and women religious, the work of Catholic Community Services and our network of Catholic Schools, and so much more.

And there's an added reason to be generous. Every dollar that comes in over and above the $356,658 goal set for us by the Archbishop will come back to the parish in the form of a rebate. And we need the rebate! This year, the rebate will help support our splendid Cathedral Music Program.

Annual Catholic Appeal 2015 WEEK ONE

Archdiocesan Goal	$356,658
Rebate Goal	$200,000
Combined Parish/Archdiocesan Goal	$556,658

CREED (except at Noon)

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

[ALL BOW]

and by the Holy Spirit
was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

[ALL STAND UPRIGHT]

For our sake he was crucified
under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory
to judge the living and the dead
and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son
is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy,
catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism
for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OF THE FAITHFUL Lord, hear our prayer.

WELCOME! If you are a visitor to the Cathedral, we want you to know how welcome you are – whether you have come from another part of the country, from across the world, or simply from another parish here in the Archdiocese. Thanks, in part, to the generosity of visitors like you, we are able to celebrate the Church's liturgy here in a fitting and beautiful way. We are also able to offer a wide range of services to needy people living in the central district of our city.

COVER ART The face of Our Lady of Guadalupe is featured on the cover of today's bulletin as we celebrate Mary in a special way during the month of May. A copy of the miraculous image of Our Lady of Guadalupe will hang in the south aisle of the West Nave throughout the month.

FLORAL DONATIONS Floral donations are a wonderful way to remember a deceased loved one or commemorate an important anniversary, and at the same time enrich the whole parish community! Right now, we have an opening the weekend of May 9-10, Mother's Day Weekend. If you would like to offer flowers, contact Jane Mueller, 206-654-4650 or e-mail jmueller@stjames-cathedral.org.

I SAW ETERNITY THE OTHER NIGHT Our series on the metaphysical poets continues with poems by Henry Vaughan (1621-1695) and Thomas Traherne (1636-1674) Vaughan's work anticipates Wordsworth in its celebration of the innocence of childhood. Traherne's extraordinary imagination, anticipating William Blake, was largely unknown until the rediscovery of his work in the early 20th century. Tuesday, May 5, 7:00pm in Room 1EW, Cathedral Place. Information, Corinna Laughlin, 206-622-3559 x3996.

SEATTLE PRO MUSICA: "PRISM" On Friday, May 8 and Saturday, May 9, at 8:00pm, Seattle Pro Musica presents Prism, featuring music by Arvo Pärt and James MacMillan as well as a world premiere of a new work by Pacific Northwest composer John Muehleisen. Information, www.seattlepromusica.org.

JOB OPENING St. James Cathedral has an opening for a Custodian to perform basic janitorial tasks and floor care, and also to work with the Cathedral Facilities staff in setting up for special events. This is a full time position with an Archdiocesan Benefits package. To receive a job description and details, download the Seattle Archdiocesan Job Application at: <http://www.seattlearchdiocese.org/Archdiocese/HR/Documents/EmploymentApplication.pdf> and send it via e-mail to Tang Nguyen, tnguyen@stjames-cathedral.org.

PARISH REMEMBRANCE Throughout the year, because we are the Cathedral Church, we remember in prayer at Mass and Vespers each of the parishes and missions of the Archdiocese of Seattle on a Sunday near their feast day. This week we remember in prayer the parish of St. Catherine in Seattle, and the mission churches of St. Catherine in Cathlamet and Concrete, and St. Joseph the Worker in Yacolt.

Nicaragua Mission Trip

St. James Youth Ministry is sending a Mission Team to NPH Nicaragua!

We need your help! Please consider becoming part of this mission endeavor in one (or both) of the following ways:

Buy organic Nicaraguan Coffee! Our youth will be pre-selling Nicaraguan French Roast, Medium, and Decaf blends following select Masses throughout May. All profits will benefit our mission trip. Turn a household staple into a missionary endeavor!

Buy Shares of Stock in the Mission Trip! Youth will be available to sell $15 shares of stock after select Masses throughout May. Please consider becoming a stockholder at one of the following levels:

- Supporter in Mission – One Share – $15
Dividend: You will be prayed for by name during our trip!
- Partner in Mission – Two Shares – $30
Dividend: Receive e-mail communication from youth in the field!
- Stakeholder in Mission – Three Shares – $45
Dividend: You will be invited to our stakeholder's dinner to hear stories about the mission you funded!

Anyone who chooses to buy four shares of stock or more will additionally receive a handmade Nicaraguan craft acquired during the trip.

Please become part of this mission trip alongside our parish youth!

About the Trip:

Our youth ministry participants are partnering with NPH, a system of orphanage homes, to engage in a unique mission devoted to closeness, mutuality, and kinship with the poor.

Pope Francis told us, "We have much to learn from the poor." Our team of 26 youth and adult leaders desire to do exactly that.

Rather than focusing on "doing" something in Nicaragua, we will instead "be with" Nicaraguan orphans, allowing them to become our teachers, calling us to conversion.

In this way, we develop understanding and friendship with those who would otherwise be marginalized. We become a Church for and with the poor.

NPH USA transforms the lives of orphaned and abandoned children in Latin America and the Caribbean by supporting the homes, healthcare and educational programs of Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos. (NPH)

Exploring Catholic history in the Northwest through treasures from the past

PART 23: MSGR. PREFONTAINE'S PECTORAL CROSS

3 MAY 2015

The Archives of the Archdiocese of Seattle treasures a number of pectoral crosses belonging to the shepherds of the diocese, from Bishop Blanchet to Archbishop Hunthausen. The collection includes one cross which belonged not to a bishop but to a priest: the pectoral cross presented to Father Francis X. Prefontaine at the time of his investiture as a Protonotary Apostolic (an especially high rank of Monsignor) in 1908.

Father Prefontaine had arrived in Seattle in 1867, and built Seattle's first Catholic Church, Our Lady of Good Help, in 1869. From the beginning he rubbed elbows with Yeslers, Dennys, and many of the other leaders who helped transform Seattle from a "lost cause" (Bishop Blanchet's words) to one of the fastest-growing cities on the west coast. Prefontaine was especially known as a promoter of education in Seattle: he served as an honorary board member for Seattle's first public library and was later instrumental in the building and growth of Holy Names Academy and Seattle University. Prefontaine was also an astute investor, particularly in real estate. When he died in 1909, he left a fortune of more than $30,000, no mean sum at that time.

It was Father Prefontaine who first suggested to Bishop O'Dea that he move his seat from Vancouver to Seattle. Bishop O'Dea did, and for a short time, Our Lady of Good Help served as the pro-Cathedral. Prefontaine dreamed that a great cathedral would rise on the lot at Third and Washington which he had cleared with his own hands, and where he had labored for nearly forty years. But that was not to be. The land was sold to developers for a railroad tunnel (which ended up being built east of the site), the pioneer church of Our Lady of Good Help was rebuilt at Fifth and Jefferson, and a site on First Hill was chosen for the new Cathedral.

Prefontaine was deeply disappointed. The removal of the church also meant the removal of his home since he had lived in the church's basement for more than twenty years. Prefontaine retired, moving to a new home on Capitol Hill where he served as chaplain to the Sisters of the Holy Names, spending the balance of his time either in his own extensive library or entertaining his many friends. "I have led a strenuous life," he told a reporter for the Seattle Daily Times, "and I feel as though I need a rest."

But Bishop O'Dea ensured that Prefontaine's career did not end in disappointment. At his recommendation, Pope Pius X named Prefontaine a Protonotary Apostolic, the first in the Prefontaine's pectoral cross with its red silk cord is still treasured in the Archives of the Archdiocese of Seattle. After his death, it was presented to Msgr. Daniel Hanly, the Cathedral's first pastor, upon his own elevation to the rank of Protonotary Apostolic.

Northwest. The new rank brought new dignity in dress—robes of purple silk, and gloves, ring, and pectoral cross not unlike those worn by a bishop. More importantly, it was a great honor bestowed at the end of Prefontaine's distinguished career, as a sign of the Church's gratitude to a priest who had been instrumental in the building up of the faith in the Pacific Northwest.

Prefontaine's elevation was marked with due solemnity on September 24, 1908, just a few days after his seventieth birthday. St. James Cathedral was filled with his friends and fans, as well as representatives from every parish in Seattle. Forty priests crowded the sanctuary to honor their friend. After the reading of the decree from Pope Pius X, Bishop O'Dea invested Prefontaine with the signs of his new dignity, including the pectoral cross. "His life has been an open book," said Bishop O'Dea, "to be published at large throughout the state. He has seen your children grow to manhood and womanhood and no one can say that he has been aught but a faithful servant." After his investiture, Msgr. Prefontaine celebrated Pontifical Mass in the Cathedral—another special privilege attached to his new rank. The P-I reported: "His kindly face wreathed in smiles, Msgr. Prefontaine expressed his gratitude that the ceremony passed off so happily."

Perhaps even more delightful was the banquet which followed at the Savoy Hotel, located in a brand-new high rise on Second Avenue (since demolished). The menu for the occasion survives in the Archives. It is headed by a passage from Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet: "This day I hold an old accustom'd feast; / Whereto I have invited many a guest." The menu itself details an extraordinary 12-course feast ranging from caviar canapés to turtle soup to potatoes dauphine to braised squab chicken à la Henry to nesselrode pudding, Roquefort cheese, and demi tasses. During the banquet, the hotel orchestra, according to all reports, outdid themselves with the music, and Bishop O'Dea paid tribute to the new Monsignor, expressing the hope that Father Prefontaine might "live many years to enjoy the honor" he had received.

That was not to be. Just six months later, on March 4, 1909, Prefontaine died after a brief illness. His bishop and his beloved Sisters of the Holy Names and Sisters of Providence were at his side.

THANK YOU, WINTER SHELTER VOLUNTEERS!

"Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or see you thirsty and give you drink? When did we welcome you or clothe you?" The King will answer them: "I assure you, as often as you did it for the least of my brothers and sisters, you did it for me." Matthew 25:37-40

St. James Cathedral has hosted guests from St. Martin de Porres Shelter during the winter months for 23 years. This allows the St. Martin's to expand its ministry to men 50-years and older experiencing homelessness. Our winter shelter season has come to a successful conclusion! Thank you to all who contributed to this endeavor- the volunteers, the hygiene product donors, and those who prayed for the guests and shelter. Here is a look at the shelter season by the numbers:

1,494	The number of bed-nights provided for our guests from St. Martin de Porres Shelter. Guests are provided with a late-night snack, hygiene products, and a safe and warm place to sleep.
1,494	The number of warm and nourishing breakfasts provided to our guests in the morning. Volunteers purchase all the ingredients and arrive at St. James Cathedral at 5:45am to prepare the meal.
76	The number of overnight hosts, breakfast hosts, hygiene kit organizers, and one fantastic scheduler who all volunteer their time to make this shelter possible.
3,016	A low-end estimate of the number of hours our volunteers contributed.
0	The number of nights cancelled – thanks to often heroic efforts by our volunteers who stepped up at the last minute to fill a shift.

Senior Trips

THE NEXT SENIOR TRIP will be Wednesday, May 13. First we will visit the Botanical Gardens in Bellevue: a lovely display of cultivated gardens and serene woodlands.

Our second stop will be lunch at The Forecaster's Pub at the Redhook Brewery. Lunch will be followed by a tour of the brewery including a taste of their ales. Please join us! Space is limited and priority will be given to registered parishioners.
