LAUDA ANIMA

Glory be to God in heaven,
Songs of joy and peace we bring;
Thankful hearts and voices raising,
To creation's Lord we sing:
Lord, we thank you, Lord, we bless you,
Glory be to God our king.

Lamb of God who on your shoulders
Bore the load of this world's sin;
Only Son of God the Father,
You have brought us peace within:
Lord, have mercy, Christ, have mercy,
Now your glorious reign begin.

You, O Son of God, are holy,
You we praise with one accord;
None in heav'n or earth is like you,
Only you are Christ the Lord,
With the Father, and the Spirit,
Ever worshiped and adored.

HOW SWEET IT IS: NEWS FROM THE CATHEDRAL

KITCHEN What do you do with 1,000 pounds of candy? On Tuesday evenings, Matt Secrest, a sixth grade teacher at Holy Rosary School in West Seattle, comes to Cathedral Kitchen to volunteer his dishwashing expertise. A couple of weeks ago he asked if we would be interested in receiving Halloween candy that the students would donate after Trick or Treating. We said "Great"—thinking that he would be bringing a couple of bags and that we could use the candy in our lunch bags as an extra sweet. Much to our surprise, we received bags and boxes of candy and more candy. Matt said that it all weighed in at over 1,000 pounds—a blessing, to say the least! We have been able to include the candy not only in our lunch bags and on our dessert trays, but also have shared these treats with the Winter Shelter, the Cathedral Youth Music Program, Children's Faith Formation, the Frederic Ozanam House, Chancery Place, and St. Mary's Food Bank. Thank you to all the students at Holy Rosary School for their partnership in sharing.

NEW IN THE BOOKSTORE Father James Martin, SJ's new book, Between Heaven and Mirth: Laughing with the Saints is now in stock. Also, candles for your Advent wreath!

EMMAUS COMPANIONS are parishioners who are available during the weekend Masses and coffee hours to assist people who have come to the Cathedral in crisis or with special needs. We are looking for a few new people to join us in this important ministry of welcoming and presence. All that is needed is a listening ear and an open heart. Training and mentoring are provided. Information, Patty Bowman, 206-382-4515.

Transitioning to the new Roman Missal

Part 10 in a series (Prepared by Corinna Laughlin)

November 13, 2011

Following the Eucharistic Prayer, the Communion Rite begins. This part of the liturgy includes a number of prayers of preparation. There are prayers for the entire assembly, private prayers for the priest, and rites to prepare for the communion of the assembly.

We prepare for communion as a community by praying the Lord's Prayer and exchanging a sign of peace. Then the Body of Christ is broken and divided into bowls during the Agnus Dei, the Lamb of God. Then, bowing before the consecrated elements, the priest prays silently one of two early medieval prayers of preparation for communion. Only after this prayer does the priest elevate the host and chalice once again, and invite the people to come forward with an invitation based on the Scriptures.

The first part of this invitation, which takes up the words of the Agnus Dei we have just sung, comes from words of John the Baptist in John 1:29: "Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sins of the world." The second part comes from the vision of the heavenly liturgy in the book of Revelation 19:9: "Then the angel said to me, 'Write this: Blessed are those who have been called to the wedding feast of the Lamb.' And he said to me, 'These words are true; they come from God.'" In the Eucharist we celebrate, we join, for a moment, in the heavenly liturgy. In the sacrament we are about to receive, we have a pledge of eternal glory, a foretaste of the heavenly banquet.

Our response is also based on the Scriptures. It is based on the Gospel account of the healing of the servant of a Roman centurion, which appears both in Matthew

INVITATION TO COMMUNION

Priest:

Behold the Lamb of God,
behold him who takes away the sins of the world.
Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb.

Priest and People:

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof,
but only say the word
and my soul shall be healed.

and in Luke. "Lord, I am not worthy to have you enter under my roof; only say the word and my servant shall be healed" (Matthew 8:8). The new translation of the response more accurately reflects the Latin text, and also more obviously echoes the Gospel passage, particularly the phrase "under my roof."

Why do we recall this particular Gospel passage just before receiving communion? Perhaps because the response of the centurion combines an expression of humility with an amazing act of faith. He believes so completely in Jesus' healing power that he is confident that just a word from Jesus will do. Jesus marvels at his faith: "in no one in Israel have I found such faith." Jesus then looks forward to a time when "many will come from the east and the west, and will recline with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob at the banquet in the kingdom of heaven" (8:11).

It is interesting to compare our response to those in other Christian traditions at this moment. In many Eastern Rite churches, the priest invites the people to communion with the words "Holy things for holy people," and the response is an acclamation of praise: "One Holy, one Lord, Jesus Christ to the glory of God the Father." In the Episcopal Church, a prayer before communion recalls a different Gospel story: "We are not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under thy Table." Then the priest says, "The Gifts of God for the People of God." Humble awareness of our unworthiness and faith in Christ's saving power, joy in this moment and hope for the heavenly banquet—all these themes intertwine at this holy moment.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE MASS IS CHANGING We will begin using the new translation of the Roman Missal on Sunday, November 27. AFTER ALL MASSES THIS WEEKEND, there will be a gathering to hear and practice the new responses, to ask questions and share your thoughts. Sunday morning, sessions will be held in the Pastoral Outreach Center; Saturday and Sunday EVENING, in the Cathedral Chapel. Please attend one of these sessions.

REMEMBERING THOSE WHO DIED ON THE STREETS OF KING COUNTY IN 2011

Every year, homeless people lose their lives on the streets of our community. This year, we remember the homeless individuals who died outside or by violence in King County.

You are invited to gather at St. James Cathedral on Wednesday, November 16, 2011, at 5:30pm, for a special Mass in memory of these men and women who passed away in our midst over the last year. Please join us to honor their memory, celebrate their lives, and pray for them. There will be a brief reception following Mass. All are welcome.

Your Community Blood Center

Puget Sound Blood Center is an independent, volunteer-supported, nonprofit community resource. It is a key link in the healthcare network, providing blood, tissue and specialized laboratory services in Western Washington and across the Northwest. Blood Center physicians offer 24-hour consultation to the medical community on transfusion and transplantation medicine issues, and provide valuable education aimed at improving patient care.

Who needs blood?

Most of us will require a blood transfusion at some point in our lifetimes. To meet the transfusion needs of patients in our community, at least 900 people must donate blood through the Puget Sound Blood Center every weekday.

Who can donate blood?

Most people can donate blood. Those who are at least 18 years old and weigh at least 110 pounds may donate blood every 56 days. Those 16 or 17 may donate with a signed Blood Center permission slip; there is no upper age limit. Some health conditions or medications may temporarily or permanently prevent people from donating blood.
