WELCOME! If you are a visitor to the Cathedral, we want you to know how welcome you are – whether you have come from another part of the country, from across the world, or simply from another parish here in the Archdiocese. Thanks, in part, to the generosity of visitors like you, we are able to celebrate the Church's liturgy here in a fitting and beautiful way. We are also able to offer a wide range of services to needy people living in the central district of our city.

TWENTY YEARS LATER This month marks twenty years since the rededication of St. James Cathedral following its restoration and renovation in 1994. In honor of this special anniversary, look for five history panels near the font, ambo, cathedra, presider chair, and Blessed Sacrament Chapel which include architect's drawings and photos of the construction process which brought new life to our historic Cathedral.

NEW IN THE BOOKSTORE Pray your way through Advent with reflections from G. K. Chesterton, St. Francis, Henri Nouwen, St. Pio, and more! Also, lots of new jewelry items from the Vatican Collection—these make wonderful Christmas gifts. Plus prayer books, missals, and missalettes for the coming year 2015.

OUR ADVENT COMMUNAL RECONCILIATION SERVICE will be held Monday, December 15 at 7:30pm. During this beautiful service of readings, reflection and song, we will open ourselves to experience the gift of God's gracious and loving forgiveness in the Sacrament of Penance. It has long been a tradition in the church to confess one's sins before celebrating the great feast of Christmas. This will be the ideal time to do so.

WINTER SHELTER IN NEED OF SUPPLIES Thank you for your generous support of the overflow Winter Shelter! We currently are running low on the following items: cough drops, disposable razors, lip balm, dental floss, men's deodorant sticks, large spray deodorant, travel size non-alcohol mouth wash, and nail clippers/emery boards. Please drop off any supplies in the Rubbermaid container at Coffee Hour after the 8am, 10am, and noon Masses, or at the Cathedral office Monday-Friday 9am-5pm. Thank you!

CELEBRATING SANTO NIÑO The Cathedral Friends of Santo Niño invite you to join them in planning the fiesta celebrating the Child Jesus which takes place each January after the Santo Niño Mass. You are invited to a planning session during Coffee Hour in Cathedral Place Hall on Sunday, December 14 following the Noon Mass. Bring your ideas and enthusiasm! No experience required!

PARISH REMEMBRANCE Throughout the year, because we are the Cathedral Church, we remember in prayer at Mass and Vespers each of the parishes and missions of the Archdiocese of Seattle on a Sunday near their feast day. This week we remember in prayer the communities of Immaculate Conception in Seattle, Everett, Arlington, and Mount Vernon, and Immaculate Conception Mission in Steilacoom.

SUNDAY EVENING ADVENT REFLECTIONS

Continuing TONIGHT, the young adults will meet in the Rectory Parlors at 7pm on each Sunday in Advent. Come for a quiet reflection on the meaning of this season that is too often overlooked amidst the busyness and consumerism of December. To commemorate and learn from a time when the Jewish people awaited the Messiah, we will explore what it means to invite Christ into our lives today. We will read scripture, listen to Franciscan priest Richard Rohr, and discuss the implications for everyday life. Light snacks will be provided.

GREENING OF THE CATHEDRAL On Monday, December 22, there will be a rare opportunity to get a look “behind the scenes” at the Cathedral while preparing our sacred space for Christmas! Volunteers are needed to decorate starting at 6:30pm, and pizza will be provided for your efforts! Space is limited—RSVP early!

Exploring Catholic history in the Northwest through treasures from the past

PART 21: MSGR. THEODORE M. RYAN'S ROSARY AND NAPKIN RING

14 DECEMBER 2014

Msgr. Theodore M. Ryan (1890-1960) was one of the most distinguished members of the clergy of Seattle. He held many significant posts—Chancellor under Bishop O'Dea, Vicar General under Archbishop Connolly—and was an unmistakable presence at solemn liturgies and clergy gatherings, with his tall, stately figure and his magnificent head of prematurely grey hair.

Theodore Ryan was the son of Timothy and Catherine Ryan, who arrived in Seattle from Ireland in 1888. He later said that he had inherited his acumen in acquiring properties from his father, a general contractor. A member of the first graduating class of Seattle College, Theodore had long known he wanted to be a priest. There was no seminary in Seattle, so Bishop O'Dea sent the young man to the Grand Seminaire in Montreal.

O'Dea kept Ryan's first letter to him from seminary: "On Sunday, I took the soutane.... Wearing the soutane makes me feel more at home and more in keeping with the spirit of the seminary. I am getting along fine in my studies. In the two weekly examinations we have so far had, I was among the first third whose names are read out." On completing his seminary studies, Ryan was ordained in Montreal on December 18, 1914—exactly one hundred years ago this week—the first native-born Seattleite to be ordained a priest. He was the proud "native son" of the Seattle clergy.

Father Ryan's first assignment was at St. Patrick's Church in Tacoma, where he served under Msgr. William Noonan. But just a few years later, Bishop O'Dea called him to Seattle to serve as Chancellor of the diocese. The story (probably apocryphal) was told that Ryan was considering missionary work overseas, and Bishop O'Dea convinced him to stay by telling him that serving as Chancellor was a higher calling!

In Bishop O'Dea, Ryan found a dear friend. He became O'Dea's right hand man, a staunch defender of the gentle Bishop. He saw to it that O'Dea's vision for the Church in Seattle came to life—even when that vision seemed most unlikely. When O'Dea dreamed of building a seminary, Ryan not only discovered the site for St. Edward's, high on a hill overlooking Lake Washington, but he saw the project through to completion in spite of the Great Depression.

In 1926, Ryan was invested as a "Domestic Prelate"—a Monsignor—which entitled him to wear the ferraiolone, a cape lined with purple silk, and other special attire. His letter to Gammarelli's—purveyors of ecclesiastical vesture to prelates and popes—still survives in the Archives: "I am highly pleased with your workmanship and shall continue to order from you in the future. Please keep my measurements on record."

In 1929, Msgr. Ryan became pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in Seattle, which had been administered by the Jesuits but now passed to the diocesan clergy. One of his first projects was the installation of the wonderful Lourdes grotto, the gift of the Casey family (of UPS fame). The project raised some eyebrows since the parish's first non-Jesuit pastor had to remove several statues of Jesuit saints to make way for the new shrine!

Ryan would lead the Immaculate for thirty-one years. It was there that he baptized Michael Gerard Ryan, the son of his first cousin Russell. Our Father Ryan remembers formal visits to the Rectory at the Immaculate growing up. The family would be greeted at the door by the housekeeper, Miss Enright, and shown into an old-fashioned parlor. After a few minutes, the Monsignor himself would appear, resplendent in his cassock with what seemed to the young Ryans to be hundreds of buttons. Father Ryan still remembers the Monsignor's buckled shoes and his socks which matched the piping on his cassock!

With Monsignor Ryan, there was substance as well as style. He was open-minded and forward-thinking. During World War II, Ryan served on the National War Labor Board, and after the war continued to be a friend to organized labor, and served as mediator in several tense labor disputes. A college friend described him as "absolutely free from the slightest semblance of bigotry." He never lost his openness to the new: to the very end of his life he greeted new buildings and new projects "with the eagerness of a newly ordained priest," as Msgr. John Doogan wrote in a tribute.

Early in January, 1960, Ryan's old friend Lucie Frenette died. She had been Bishop O'Dea's devoted housekeeper for many years. Though he was somewhat under the weather himself, Msgr. Ryan insisted on preaching at her funeral and then attending her to her grave at Calvary Cemetery. Soon after, he landed in Providence Hospital, just down the street from the Immaculate. When asked how he was doing, he replied, "I am a caged lion." The "caged lion" escaped one afternoon to go across the street to his barber for his regular haircut, then returned to his bed at the hospital. He died on January 23, 1960, at the age of 69. As Archbishop Connolly said at the funeral Mass for Msgr. Ryan at the Immaculate, he was "a pillar of strength to his bishop and a devoted, unflinching friend and helper to his brother priests." —Corinna Laughlin, Pastoral Assistant for Liturgy

to non-practicing Catholics

Faith is not a light which scatters all our darkness, but a lamp which guides our steps in the night and suffices for the journey.

Pope Francis

Are you a Catholic who has been away from the Church? Do you think about returning? Or do you know a Catholic who has been away from the practice of their faith?

"Welcome Back" is our parish program created to help people return to the sacraments and to regular church attendance. It's a wonderful opportunity to ask questions about faith, and to learn about changes in the Church.

- Ask questions and discuss faith
- Bring concerns
- Get to know the Church under Pope Francis
- Participate in the Sacraments again

WELCOME BACK is a 12 week program that begins on Monday, January 5, 2015, at 7:00pm in Cathedral Place. For information and to find out if this is the program for you, contact Rosanne Michaels, 206-654-4658 or rmichaels@stjames-cathedral.org.

Centering Prayer

Monday evenings, January 26, February 2, 9, 16
7:00pm, Pastoral Outreach Center

The heart and soul of Centering Prayer is consenting to the presence and action of God in our lives. It is not meant to replace other kinds of prayer; rather, it casts a new light and depth of meaning on them. It is both a relationship with God and a discipline to foster that relationship. This four-session experience is meant to open our awareness of God whom we know by faith is within us, closer than breathing, closer than thinking, closer than choosing, by centering on the Divine Presence within us.

Facilitators: Sister Joyce Cox, BVM, and Dr. Rebecca C. Cortes.

Registration required. Please contact Corinna Laughlin,
