INTRODUCTORY RITES

*A bust of our patron, the apostle James, features in the entrance procession.
The bust, thought to be the work of a 16th-century German sculptor, was created to house a relic of the apostle. Following Mass, you are invited to venerate a relic of our heavenly patron.*

For thy blest saints

ST. ANNE

| 1 For thy blest saints, a noble throng,
Who fell by fire and sword,
Or early died, or flourished long,
We praise thy Name, O Lord. 2 For James who left his father's side,
Not ling'ring by the sea;
He heard what could not be denied,
Thy summons, "Follow me." | 3 He stood with thee beside the dead;
He climbed the mount with thee,
And saw the glory round thy head,
One of the chosen three. 4 He knelt beneath the olive shade,
He drank thy cup of pain;
And slain by Herod's flashing blade
He saw thy face again. 5 Lord, may we learn to drink the cup,
And meek and firm be found,
When thou shalt come to take us up
Where thine elect are crowned. |

Let us sing with great rejoicing, on this day when JAMES, Apostle,

CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD. This wonderful event in the chapel at noon Mass makes the Liturgy of the Word more meaningful to the children at their age appropriate level. We thank our presenters and cantors this past year who helped the children understand and appreciate better God's word and sing God's praises. There will be a short summer break and during the month of August when we will not have the Children's Liturgy of the Word. It will resume on September 7, the same Sunday when Children's Faith Formation registration will take place.

THE YEAR OF ST. PAUL

Each week during the coming Year of St. Paul, watch this space in the bulletin for reflection questions that will lead us deeper into the writings and example of St. Paul. You are also invited to visit the Place of Prayer in the west aisle and at www.stjames-cathedral.org.

- ♦ On this Feast of St. James, we hear a reading from St. Paul's second letter to the Christian community at Corinth (2 Corinthians 4: 7-15). This reading perfectly captures the experience of our patron, James, who was the first of the Twelve to suffer martyrdom: "We who live are constantly being given up to death for the sake of Jesus." In our country, we enjoy freedom of religion. But there are ways in which believers are "afflicted," "perplexed," "persecuted," and "struck down," to use St. Paul's words, in our culture. Have you ever suffered for your faith in Christ?
- ♦ As St. Paul says, "we have the same spirit of truth" as did James and the Apostles, the Spirit that raised Jesus from the dead. Who are your favorite saints? How have they influenced you? How have they brought you closer to Christ?

First among Apostles!

Exploring the Cathedral's images of St. James the Greater

Saint James Cathedral is full of reminders of our patron. The son of Zebedee, and brother of John, James was the humble fisherman who became a fiery apostle, the first of the twelve to be martyred. This beloved saint came to be known as "Saint James the Greater," the "first among apostles." His shrine at Santiago de Compostela, Spain, was, with Jerusalem and Rome, one of the three most popular pilgrimage sites of the Middle Ages. On our own pilgrimage of prayer, we'll explore the Cathedral inside and out, and take a closer look at the principal images of James.

❶ ON THE WEST TERRACE

❷ AT THE GREAT DOORS

❸ IN THE NORTH AISLE

The window just above you by Charles Connick (1916-17) was for many years the only representation of Saint James in the Cathedral. Connick shows the apostle with a green and blue mantle over his brown pilgrim's robe and sandals. He carries a staff and gourd, and he wears a cockleshell on his pilgrim hat. His red book and vivid halo remind us of his martyrdom. "Let Catholics rejoice! For this is the praiseworthy day, noble with light divine, when James, conquering Herod's sword, received the reward of life." from the medieval pilgrim song Congaudeant catholici

❹ IN THE BLESSED SACRAMENT CHAPEL

The image of the Last Supper on the south wall is an early 20th-century Italian work based on Leonardo Da Vinci. James and John had asked Jesus for seats at his right hand and his left in his kingdom. Jesus replied, "Can you drink the cup that I drink or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" They said, "we can." In Da Vinci's vision of the Last Supper, the brothers' wish is granted; John is at Jesus' right, James at his left. Da Vinci depicts James with hands outstretched, in amazement, as he recognizes what it means to drink the cup with Jesus. "Let our company give joyful praise on this day when the athlete of Christ rejoices without end: James in glory in the courts of the angels." from the medieval pilgrim song Nostra phalans

❺ NEAR THE SHRINE TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

The principal image of Saint James is found in the northeast corner of the Cathedral, just outside the shrine of the Blessed Virgin Mary. This dramatic representation shows the saint as a pilgrim on the way to Compostela. He seems to be standing on a windy road, with his voluminous pilgrim cape blowing about him. He is bent on his journey and yet he casts an intense glance toward the altar and impels us to follow his gaze. Watching over the people of St. James Cathedral in all their comings and goings, he is a fitting emblem of the pilgrim church.

CONCLUDING PRAYER

O James,
pray for us all with continual prayer.
Restore life to your own so that we may deserve to be joined above on the fields in the stars.
Remember your children through the ages,
and never cease to pray for the pilgrims who beseech you, so that we, removed from all the narrow places, may deserve to possess together with you the perpetual kingdom of heaven.

from a prayer by Calixtus, the medieval Pope who helped popularize pilgrimage to Compostela
